

EnAct Our Dreams

Who We Are:

We are a group of teenagers living in Silicon Valley who seek to help out teenagers. We have come to realize the importance of education on people's lives and are looking to increase awareness of education's importance to our peers.

Problem:

Currently, even in Silicon Valley, there exists a major disparity in success, especially with the academic achievement gap.

In addition, there has always been an abundance of services for underachieving students, but no one is taking advantage of these services.

Mission:

- To ignite students' passion for education;
- To inform students about opportunities and assist those applicable to utilize them;
- To tutor students;
- To create an enjoyable community.
